Five-question framework for “Synthesising Disciplinary and Stakeholder Knowledge”

1. For what and for whom?
   What is the consideration of diverse unknowns aiming to achieve?
   Whose perspectives will be included?
   (Chapter 11)

2. Which unknowns?
   a) systems view
   b) scoping
   c) boundary setting
   d) framing
   e) values
   f) harnessing and managing differences
   (Chapter 12)

3. How?
   a) reduction
   b) banishment
   c) acceptance
   d) surrender
   e) exploitation
   f) denial
   plus by whom and when
   (Chapter 13)

4. Context?
   a) big picture
   b) authorisation
   c) organisational facilitators and barriers
   (Chapter 14)

5. Outcome?
   Were good choices made for
   a) aims and beneficiaries
   b) unknowns tackled
   c) methods and processes
   d) dealing with context
   (Chapter 15)

---

Five-question framework for “Understanding and Managing Diverse Unknowns”

1. For what and for whom?
   What is the consideration of diverse unknowns aiming to achieve?
   Whose perspectives will be included?
   (Chapter 11)

2. Which unknowns?
   a) systems view
   b) scoping
   c) boundary setting
   d) framing
   e) values
   f) harnessing and managing differences
   (Chapter 12)

3. How?
   a) reduction
   b) banishment
   c) acceptance
   d) surrender
   e) exploitation
   f) denial
   plus by whom and when
   (Chapter 13)

4. Context?
   a) big picture
   b) authorisation
   c) organisational facilitators and barriers
   (Chapter 14)

5. Outcome?
   Were good choices made for
   a) aims and beneficiaries
   b) unknowns tackled
   c) methods and processes
   d) dealing with context
   (Chapter 15)
Five-question framework for “Providing Integrated Research Support for Policy and Practice Change”

1. For what and for whom?
   What policy and practice change is being supported?
   Who will be targeted?
   (Chapter 18)

2. Which aspects of policy and practice?
   a) systems view
   b) scoping
   c) boundary setting
   d) framing
   e) values
   f) harnessing and managing differences
   (Chapter 19)

3. How?
   a) communication
   b) advocacy
   c) engagement
   d) fresh thinking on complex problems
   plus by whom and when
   (Chapter 20)

4. Context?
   a) big picture
   b) authorisation
   c) organisational facilitators and barriers
   (Chapter 21)

5. Outcome?
   Were good choices made for
   a) aims and beneficiaries
   b) aspects of policy and practice targeted
   c) methods and processes
   d) dealing with context
   (Chapter 22)